

PhD position available at the Institute for Experimental Pathology, University of Iceland, Keldur, Reykjavik

We are looking for a highly motivated and independent student for a PhD project in research on insect bite hypersensitivity in horses.

The project will be carried out in Reykjavik, Iceland and in Bern, Switzerland.

For more information, please contact:

Dr. Sigridur Jonsdottir

siggajons@hi.is

